Terra-cotta plaque of a Sumerian god and a lion, a work believed to be more than 4,000 years old, will be discussed in a slide-lecture series on "The Wonders of Ancient Civilization" presented by the California Museum of Ancient Art at 1:30 p.m. June 3, 10 and 17 at the Santa Monica library, 1343 6th Street.

'Great Wall' Muralist to Speak

Muralist Judith F. Baca will present a slide talk on "The Great Wall of Los Angeles—A Process of Community Change" at 7:30 tonight as part of a lecture series at the Social and Public Arts Resource Center, 685 Venice Blvd.

Baca, a founder of the center, designed the "Great Wall," a 2,500-foot-long mural whose subject is local history from prehistoric times to the 1950s.

Concluding the lecture series will be a talk by muralist Eva Cockroft on "Revolutionary Art of Latin America and the U.S." at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday at the center.

Admission to each lecture costs $5. The series is supported by a grant from the Los Angeles County Music and Performing Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts.
